Challenge

Aposentadorias Brasil, a startup in the retirement consultation sector, faced several obstacles in building a strong digital presence, including:

- Lack of a Professional Website – They needed a well-designed website to enhance their online visibility, improve usability, and generate high-quality leads.
- Automated Customer Service – Managing incoming inquiries manually was inefficient. They required an AI-powered chat system to streamline responses and segment customers effectively.
- Limited Digital Presence – Without a strategic digital marketing plan, they struggled to leverage social media and video content to engage their audience.
- Google Ads Optimization – They needed a cost-effective approach to managing and optimising Google Ads campaigns for better conversions.
- Efficient Lead Management – Handling leads manually was time-consuming, requiring an automated system to improve efficiency.
- Building Customer Trust – They faced difficulties in showcasing past successes, which impacted their credibility and ability to attract new clients.
