Boiler Solutions

Problem

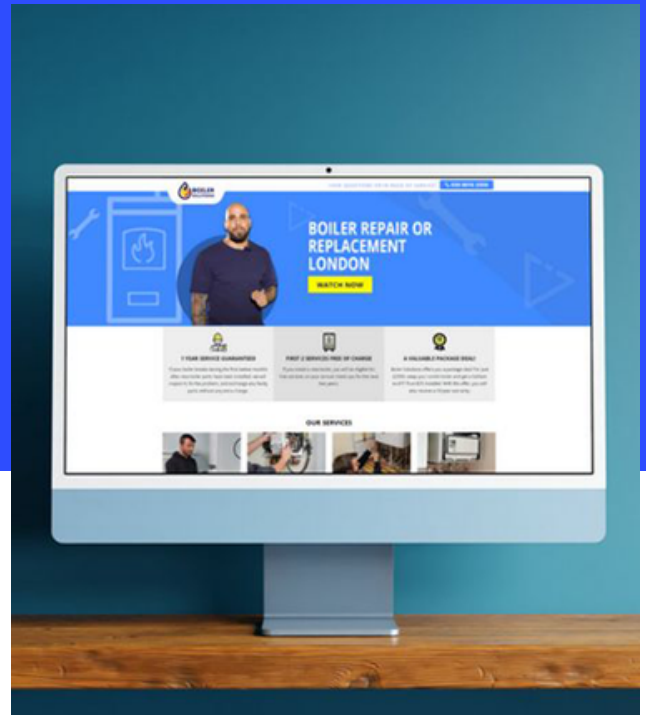

- Boiler Solutions Ltd, a gas plumbing company in London, faced challenges due to the highly competitive boiler service and installation market.
- They struggled to generate sufficient leads and process them efficiently without a dedicated, highly trained full-time customer service team.

Performance on search results

Results

- Achieved top search rankings for relevant global search queries within London using the main Boiler Solutions website.
 - Successfully captured local search traffic, generating leads for specific boroughs through localized websites.
 - The VOIP phone system we built enabled plumbers to receive only the relevant to them service enquiries and cut off the phone calls from clients in the wrong segment, for example drainage.
 - Search Results: We are SERP 1 for 'boiler solutions' and other relevant keywords
- Conducted a competitive analysis to identify opportunities to leverage technology and outperform market leaders.
 - Designed a YouTube-style video website: boiler.solutions, systematically publishing industry-relevant videos targeting the London market.
 - Created 19 localized websites, each targeting a specific borough of London to enhance local visibility and lead generation.
 - Implemented a VOIP phone system programmed for segmentation, enabling efficient call management and improved customer service.

Croydon Plumbing

Challenge

Croydon Plumbing faced several challenges in enhancing its digital presence and lead generation efforts, including:

- The need to create fast, user-friendly websites with service-specific pages optimized for local searches.
- Achieving top rankings on Google for competitive plumbing keywords to attract more customers.
- Improving lead quality and tracking performance to ensure better decision-making.
- Streamlining the invoicing process for seamless collaboration with plumbing service providers.

Performance on search results

Results

The implemented solutions led to significant improvements, such as:

- Achieving top search rankings, which increased organic traffic and visibility among potential customers.
- Generating a steady stream of high-quality leads for plumbing service providers.
- Streamlining lead tracking and automating reporting, allowing accurate invoicing with minimal effort.
- Strengthening partnerships with service providers by delivering reliable, actionable results.
- Search Results: We are SERP 1 for 'croydon plumbing' and other relevant keywords.

Solution

To tackle these challenges, Croydon Plumbing implemented a strategic digital approach by:

- Designing and developing high-performance, responsive websites with optimized content to improve visibility and engagement.
- Implementing a robust SEO strategy to rank the websites on the first page of Google for key plumbing-related terms.
- Converting optimized website traffic into valuable leads to generate consistent business opportunities.
- Establishing a lead management system to evaluate lead quality, categorize leads, and generate detailed reports for efficient tracking and invoicing.
